

Practical Ideas for the Teaching of Literature in the Classroom

"I was very satisfied with the course because it gave me the opportunity for my own personal language development, I got a lot of inspiration for my literature lessons and ideas on how to encourage my students into reading books and writing."

Jana Sankotová, PITL July 2016

This course provides teachers who are interested in incorporating literature into their lessons with an opportunity to update their own English through personal language development sessions, to discuss with colleagues the merits of different ways of incorporating literature into lessons as well as experiencing first hand practical ideas that will encourage students to become more involved with reading literature and not merely seeing reading as something that has to be in lessons.
